- on the basis of legal obligations,
- on the basis of our legitimate interest, or
- on the basis of establishing, exercising or defending our legal rights.

When do we disclose your Personal information?
We disclose your Personal information in response to your business inquiry or your request for information within our Company in order to provide the best service possible and within our legitimate interest.

We may share your information with organizations that help us provide the services described above and who may process such data on our behalf and to support this website and our services. For example, with our legal other professional advisors.

We may disclose personal information in other circumstances such as when you agree to it or if the law, a Court order, a legal obligation or regulatory authority ask us to. If the purpose is the prevention of fraud or crime or if it is necessary to protect and defend our right, property or personal safety of our staff, the website and its users.
Privacy Policy

Data retention
We will only retain your personal information for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements.

Your Rights
You have the right to:
- information about the processing of your personal information,
- obtain access to the personal information held about you,
- ask for incorrect, inaccurate or incomplete personal information to be corrected, or
- request that personal information be erased when it’s no longer needed or if processing it is unlawful.

To exercise any of your rights, or if you have any questions or complaints about our use of your Personal information, please contact us using the details provided below.

Controls For Do-Not-Track Features
Most web browsers and some mobile operating systems and mobile applications include a Do-Not-Track (‘DNT’) feature or setting you can activate to signal your privacy preference not to have data about your online browsing activities monitored and collected. At this stage no uniform technology standard for recognizing and implementing DNT signals has been finalized. As such, we do not currently respond to DNT browser signals or any other mechanism that automatically communicates your choice not to be tracked online. If a standard for online tracking is adopted that we must follow in the future, we will inform you about that practice in a revised version of this privacy notice.

Do Not Sell My Personal Information
We do not sell information that directly identifies you, like your name, address, social security number, banking information, or phone records. In fact, we do not even share that type of information except with service providers who can use the information solely to provide a service on our behalf, when a consumer directs us to share the information. If applicable, you can choose whether you want this sharing or not. Remember, we don’t sell data that directly identifies you unless we have your explicit permission, no matter what choice you make.

How do we protect your Personal information?
We protect your data using state of the art technical, and physical safeguards and operate a firm system of policies, confidentiality agreements, digital safeguards, and procedures to ensure the highest level of administrative protection.

The data we collect from you may be stored, with appropriate technical and organizational security measures applied to it, on our servers. In all cases, we follow generally high data protection standards and advanced security measures to protect the personal information submitted to us, both during transmission and once we receive it.

Automated decision-making and profiling
We do not use automation for decision-making and profiling

Personal information and children
The services available on our Platform are aimed at people aged 18 and over. We will not knowingly collect, use or disclose personal information from minors under the age of 18 without first obtaining consent from a legal guardian through direct offline contact. The parent or guardian will be provided with (i) information about the specific type of personal information being collected from the minor, (ii) the purpose for which it will be used, and (iii) the opportunity to object to any further collection, use or storage of such information. We comply with youth protection laws.
Privacy Policy

Accuracy
It is important that the data we hold about you is accurate and current, therefore please keep us informed of any changes to your personal information.

Updating your information
If you believe that the information, we hold about you is inaccurate or that we are no longer entitled to use it and want to request its rectification, deletion, or object to its processing, please do so within your user account or by contact us. For your protection and the protection of all of our users, we may ask you to provide proof of identity before we can answer the above requests.

Keep in mind, we may reject requests for certain reasons, including if the request is unlawful or if it may infringe on trade secrets or intellectual property or the privacy of another user. Also, we may not be able to accommodate certain requests to object to the processing of personal information, notably where such requests would not allow us to provide our service to you anymore.

Data Breaches/Notification
Databases or data sets that include Personal information may be breached inadvertently or through wrongful intrusion. Upon becoming aware of a data breach, we will notify all affected individuals whose Personal information may have been compromised, and the notice will be accompanied by a description of action being taken to reconcile any damage as a result of the data breach. Notices will be provided as expeditiously as possible after which the breach was discovered.

Changes
This Privacy Policy and our commitment to protecting the privacy of your personal information can result in changes to this Privacy Policy. Please regularly review this policy to keep up to date with any changes.
